FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Houston's Cram Crew finalist for Cougar 100

Houston, Texas (September 7, 2016) – Cram Crew is pleased to announce its selection as a 2016 finalist for the University of Houston's prestigious Cougar 100 organization.

As stated on the UH Alumni website, "The Cougar 100 Program, in its third year, is a bold new UH annual tradition that identifies, recognizes and celebrates the world's fastest growing UH Cougar-owned and Cougar-led businesses. Over 4,000 companies worldwide are owned and led by UH alumni, and the Cougar 100 demonstrates to all that we are among the finest commercial and industry leaders in the world. The listing not only celebrates their success, but also gives Cougars a point of pride and achievement to share with the entire community."

A University of Houston alumnus, Cram Crew's president and founder, Deepak Thadhani is honored to make the final cut: "There's nothing that gives me more pride than my Cougar-roots. The foundation I built as an MBA student at the University of Houston and the Bauer School of Business is the main reason I've been as successful as I am today," said Thadhani. "It is an absolute honor and privilege to be recognized by my peers and Cougar family for such a prestigious organization as the Cougar 100."

In order to qualify for the Cougar 100, a company must be owned or operated by a Cougar alumni. In addition, the company's gross revenue or sales must be over $250,000, and the company must have been in business for at least five years.

The 2016 Cougar 100 honorees will be featured in the October 28, 2016 edition of the Houston Business Journal.
